

CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY

Proposition is Made to Commercial Club of Winchester by Redpath Bureau of Chicago.

A movement is now on foot for the establishment of a Chautauqua Assembly in Winchester for 1912. The Redpath Bureau, of Chicago, has presented a proposition to the Commercial Club, which, after careful consideration it has cordially endorsed.

The proposition is as follows: The Redpath Bureau proposes to put on a seven day assembly of the highest possible class at their own expense to do all the advertising and work of administration, to take the risk of profit or loss if Winchester will do two things:

1. Furnish a suitable location.
2. Sell 750 season tickets at $2 each.

Also the Redpath Bureau offers to make the assembly co-operative. All season tickets sold above the 750 guarantee up to 1000 will be divided equally between Bureau and some public charity.

Also when the total receipts shall reach $5000 the cost of the Assembly to Bureau, then the further receipts shall also be equally divided.

Then, too, the refreshment percentages are to be given to the people of Winchester.

This proposition is feasible and is easily within the reach of this city, and with the co-operation of the different elements, can be made a great success. Nothing that could come into the city would be more to the uplift, the entertainment and benefit of the citizens than to bring the great men of the day, the best music and the finest entertainers into contact with the people. It will benefit Winchester in several ways.

As an advertisement of the city it will be worth a great deal, for on the great days, people will come for miles around.

In an educational way, it will give the city a distinction above the cities round about, and as a moral uplift it will be invaluable.

Let's all get together on this good matter and make a long and strong pull to make the Chautauqua a success. Some of the notable things on the program proposed are a famous Italian band, a world famous opera singer with a support of four voices, two big political men of the calibre of Bryan, Folk or LaFollette, etc. A Boy Scout Master, who has been trained for the work will make things lively for the boys and girls. In all twenty-one different lectures, entertainments and musical companies giving some thirty-five separate entertainments.

An effort is soon to be made to dispose of the tickets.

STATE COMMITTEE
UPHOLDS CANTRILL

Vote is 8 to 4 to Sustain The Snap Action Taken by Seventh Congressional District Body.

(Special to The News.)

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 13.—The meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee in Lexington Monday, which ended in another victory for Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill, was a regular Kilkenny cat affair, so far as the Democratic brethren were concerned. And that it resulted in a third consecutive victory within a month for the red-headed farmer-politician from Scott county was no surprise to those who know that gentleman's peculiar habit of getting away with the horns, hide and hair of his opponents.

Mr. Cantrill won his contention for a primary March 16 by the following votes:

For Cantrill—J. W. Pugh, State-at-Large; N. P. Taylor, Second District; T. J. Moore, Fourth District; J. C. Kennedy, Fifth District; J. A. Donaldson, Sixth District; W. L. Bramblett, Ninth District; W. A. Berry, First District; T. B. Pannell, Third District, proxy voted by J. C. Kennedy.

Against the Cantrill call—Thomas A. Combs, Seventh District; J. A. Sullivan, Eighth District; H. M. Cox, Tenth District; Woodson May, Eleventh District.

Mr. Cantrill in his address to the committee, said some mighty mean things about Judge Sam Wilson, of Lexington. He accused the Judge of being a Republican election officer in the Goebel election of 1899, of having sought the Republican endorsement for Congress on a Fusion ticket in 1910, and of having been in sympathy generally with the cussed Republicans. The crowd, which included quite a number of politicians from a number of the counties, including Fayette, who have trained in the past with the liquor element in the Democratic party in the district and state, whooped things up for Cantrill and applauded every time he landed on Judge Wilson and his supporters. Especially did they become vociferous when Cantrill asked "if the time had come in the Seventh District when the State Central Committee should turn over the Democratic party to the men who had knifed it very chance they got."

By the way a great hole was torn in the alleged Democratic harmony that is said to prevail in the Seventh District. Cantrill had only 2,900 majority over Commissioner of Agriculture M. C. Rankin two years ago. There is a bare possibility that a live Republican would put Cam on the shelf along with the other members of the Third House and the old regime at this fall's election.

The Lexington Herald Tuesday wades into the State Committee and declares that its action puts the stamp of approval on sharp practices and that the precedent it sets is practically an invitation to political highway robbery for the future.

It is truly sad to see the brethren thus fail to dwell together in unity, especially in a Presidential year.

With a Republican county administration in Fayette and a Democratic city administration that slid through last November by the skin of its teeth, the outlook for next fall in the District warrants the Herald's inquiry Tuesday morning if the Committee and Mr. Cantrill wants to bear the onus of giving the Republicans another Congressman and of sending a Republican delegation to the electoral college from Kentucky in 1912.

BOY AND MAN
ENGAGE IN FIGHT

Elijah Hughes, Age 17, Cuts Joseph Armbuster, Aged 48, on Head, Face and Throat.

We, the Emperor of China, have respectfully received today the following edict from the hands of her majesty, the Dowager Empress:

"In consequence of the uprising of the Republic army, to which the people of the provinces of China have responded, the empire is seething like a boiling cauldron and the people are plunged in misery.

"Yuan Shi Kai was therefore commanded to dispatch commissioners in order to confer with the Republicans with the view to the calling of a national assembly to decide on the future form of government. Months have elapsed and no settlement is now evident.

"The majority of the people are in favor of a Republic. From the preference of the people's hearts the will of heaven is discernible. How could we oppose the desires of millions for the glory of one family?

"Therefore, we, the Dowager Empress and the Emperor, hereby vest the sovereignty of the Chinese Empire in the people.

"For some time past we have been carefully studying the newspaper reports of crime committed in Kentucky, and the trials of those indicted for the same. We have especially been comparing the record in these particulars of what is known as the Mountains of Kentucky with Louisville, the Metropolis of the state, and Lexington, the leading city of the Bluegrass. These two cities probably represent the highest culture and best educated places of the Commonwealth. In each of them crime is just as prevalent as a like population in either the Tenth or Eleventh Congressional District, and the per cent. of convictions, in murder cases especially, is larger than in Louisville or Lexington.

"We have, of course, been unable to keep tab on all the cases in any of the sections, but barring the feuds in the mountains, which we now think is a matter of the past, life is as safe in the mountains of Kentucky as it is in either Louisville or Lexington, and probably much safer. It is easier to fix a jury or to prevent justice in our cities than in our mountain territory and it is more often done. It is time our metropolitan press should quit slandering our mountain people and sweep cleaner before their own doors. The establishment of churches and abolition of the saloon are chiefly responsible for the improved conditions in the mountains and if the Blind Tigers could be put out of business the mountains would show still greater improvement in the observance of the law. Whiskey from lawless dives is at the bottom of nearly every killing in that part of the State."—Elizabethtown News.

CHEERS FOR ROOSEVELT; VOTES FOR TAFT.

The result of the Cook County Republican Convention, held in Chicago the other day, may be taken as typical, in large degree, of what to expect from other such gatherings and from the national convention.

The name of Roosevelt was greeted with a storm of cheers. A viva-voce vote on a resolution to endorse him for the presidency brought forth an affirmative acclaim so vigorous that there seemed to be an even break in sentiment. But the roll-call told another story. By an overwhelming majority of votes the Colonel was turned down, and the confidence and approval of the delegates were later bestowed upon the President.

It looks as if the Roosevelt boom were largely one of shouts and salvos. It owes its portentous appearance to the noiseiness of its promoters. Theodore controls the megaphone, but friend William, of the White House controls the votes.

It is interesting to note, however, what the Colonel has achieved, intentionally or otherwise, by his mysterious and ambiguous policy. His indirect and unconfessed entry into the field some weeks ago, an entry accompanied by means of his friends, and helped by his own comment on public questions, resulted in putting an effective check upon the La Follette movement and taking the wind out of the Cummins candidacy before it had a chance to get underway. He cleared the field of all possibilities but himself and the President.

Then came his announcement in which he declared that he would not accept the nomination as the gift of political intrigue; but that he would not refuse it if made as the demand of the people. That announcement meant that he would neither make nor countenance the making of a fight upon the President; it meant that, so far as he was concerned, if Mr. Taft could secure a majority of the delegates to the convention he was welcome to them; there would be no interference from Oyster Bay with the White House program.

This assurance is all the friends of Mr. Taft wanted. No real doubt remains that the President will go to Chicago with enough delegates to capture the convention. La Follette cannot stop him; Roosevelt has spiked the Wisconsin's guns, punctured his boom, left him high and dry. The Cummins candidacy is not seriously taken.

President Taft has right of way, with Teddy holding back the crowd and saying, in effect, "Take it Bill, if you can. If you can't why leave it to me."

And as we size up the situation Bill is going to take it.—Louisville Herald.

PURE MILK

The state pure food authorities at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station reported Tuesday to County Attorney Scott Bullitt, of Louisville, sixty-five cases for selling watered or skimmed milk against dairymen supplying Louisville and certain restaurants. These cases resulted from the extensive inspections that have recently been made throughout the whole of the Louisville milk field and other parts of Kentucky.

The samples were collected from the milk depots, the dairymen, the restaurants, the hotels and other places where milk is served, and when a sample was found to be watered or skimmed, further investigation was made to determine who was responsible. About 700 samples were analyzed in Louisville and 65 cases reported for prosecution. In most instances the milk was taken from the dairymen's herds to determine how much water had been added to the milk as supplied by the dairymen's cows.

Red Cross Dairy (Phone 889-x.) supplies to patrons a pure, clean, and sanitary Holstein and grade Jersey milk; not watered.

FIRST LA GRIPPE,

THEN BRONCHITIS.

Such was the case with Mrs. W. S. Bailey, McCreary, Ky. "My wife was taken down with a severe attack of la grippe, which ran into bronchitis. She coughed as tho' she had consumption and could not sleep at night." The Doctor's medicine gave her no relief and I was advised to give Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The first bottle gave her so much relief that she continued using it and three bottles effected a permanent cure." Mr. W. S. Bailey says he is prepared to answer all inquiries promptly.

CAMPFIRE STORIES

DUTY OF PICKET DURING WAR

Young Recruits Were Troubled Greatly With Bothersome Countersign—One Gives Up Rifle.

In "A Little Fifer's War Diary" C. W. Bardeen relates many an incident that has not before seen light. Among these are some relating to picket duty and the rendering of the bothersome countersign which are truly remarkable.

For instead of possessing at least some faint particle of the soldierly instinct, many of the younger recruits, it would seem, were of a strikingly civilian frame of mind, and this can be no more said of one army than of the other.

This is a characteristic account:

One recruit challenged. "Who goes there?" "The Grand Rounds." Instead of saying, "Halt, Grand Rounds, Advance, sergeant, and give the countersign," the recruit exclaimed in disgust, "O—, I thought it was the relief!"

A general testing the sentries came upon young recruit who halted with:

"Stop! Have you the countersign?" "No," replied the general.

"What, another one without it?" exclaimed the sentry in disgust. "Well, I'll tell you; it's 'Victory'."

The general gasped for breath.

"What do you mean by giving anyone

THE PARABLE OF THE MAN WHO ADVERTISED

Once upon a time there was a business man who resolved to advertise. He saw what others were accomplishing with direct mail matter, "spreads" in the magazines, bill-boards and other means of publicity, and he was moved to the thought of emulating their success.

So it came to pass that he hired himself to an advertising man and laid his proposition before him. And the a.m. finding it good and exceedingly fertile, recommended therefore a suitable campaign.

The product and its appeal to the public were carefully studied, and letters, magazine ads, and other advertising prepared which would get the right point of contact.

But the business man was not satisfied. "This letter doesn't strike my fancy" and "that ad wouldn't sell goods to me in a thousand years" and "I don't like the picture that goes with this folder" were some of the criticisms he made when the various copy and layouts came before him.

Oh, he was the wise little gazoo.

He was right there with a whallop when it came to advertising knowledge, and when he got through revising things to suit his individual taste, their author knew that they were indeed orphans.

Protests were of no avail. It was his money he was spending and he "guessed" he knew good advertising when he saw it. You couldn't fool him.

People would buy what appealed to him, and when his final O.K. went on any advertising, it was right.

But, sad to relate, likewise quite obvious, the dear public did not seem to have the same taste as he. They found his advertising distinctly non-interesting and passed it by, also up.

So the campaign turned out a failure and the business man becomes really quite peeved now when the subject of "advertising" is mentioned.

All of which brings home this moral —you can't advertise to yourself and expect to have more than one possible buyer.—The Layman Printer.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

AULD LANG SYNE

To the Editor of The News:

Having read the announcement of the management of the "Lyric" of the return of the picture "Auld Lang Syne" and remembering the pleasure with which I saw this picture when it was here several weeks ago, I desire to say a few words to your readers. Every one who has considered the subject of moving pictures realizes that they have come to stay and that they are becoming a factor in the life of every community of any size, either for good or evil according to the character of the picture shown.

Now, while I do not pose as a competent critic of moving pictures, being somewhat in the same attitude of the five year old grandson of one of our former citizens of some eight years of age who some years ago remarked as he looked upon the devastation of a severe winter storm and sleet: "I never saw the like before," and the little fellow promptly said "I never did either," however, I will say that the picture referred to is the most beautiful that I have ever seen.

So feeling that the management of the "Lyric" should be encouraged to bring to our city those pictures that will be helpful and elevating, and finding sure that everyone who sees this picture will be fully repaid for their time and money, I would recommend it to your readers, and especially do I wish that every boy and girl could have the pleasure of seeing it, as it is not only pleasing to the eye but the story it tells is beautiful. Very respectfully,

R. O. FITCH.

LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE

One of the most beautiful passages of Scripture in the New Testament tells us to let our light so shine before men that others seeing our good works may glorify our Father, which is in Heaven.

I am sure that through the Associated Charities God's will is being done. Their light is shining in many poor motherless or fatherless homes in our little city. God's little ones are being looked after in a way that has never before been done. Anyone giving to promote this worthy cause God will add to his cup of happiness in the great beyond.

In a city but few miles away was a man once a possessor of great wealth. He had everything he could wish and money could buy. On one occasion a poor worthy man who had been disabled for life by discharging his duty on a railroad

I INVITE EVERY WOMAN

Every woman is invited to consult our Staff of Physicians, Surgeons and Specialists, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., by letter at my expense—R.V. PIERCE, M.D.

There is every reason why women should not trust their delicate constitutions in the hands of unskilled persons. It requires a thorough medical education to appreciate and understand the female organism. There is every reason why she should write a specialist.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked "workout," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

The KITCHEN CABINET

HANK God the meonest of his creatures two soul sides, one to face the world with—One to show a woman when he loves her.

—Browning.

GOOD THINGS TO TRY.

The culinary architect is keenly alive to anything now in combination or serving dishes and a few recipes of new dishes are always hailed with delight. Here are a few to tickle the palate:

Bohemian Pear Dainty.—Dissolve two heaping tablespoonsfuls of gelatin in a cup of boiling water, add six ripe pears that have been peeled and rubbed through a sieve, four table-spoonsfuls of sugar, a teaspoonful of vanilla and two cups of whipped cream. Mold in a wet mold and turn out when set. Decorate with sweetened whipped cream and peeled pears.

Chocolate Sponge.—Take two and a half squares of chocolate, melted, add two table-spoonsfuls of powdered gelatin, and two cups of milk, three table-spoonsfuls of sugar. Stir over the fire until melted and smooth, then strain into a basin. Add one cup whipped cream and the white of egg beaten stiff. Pour into a mold and let stand to set.

Lamb Chops With Cucumber.—Cook the chops until brown on both sides. Peel a good-sized cucumber and cut into small dice; simmer in boiling water until almost done, drain and season with butter and cool until quite tender. Add salt, chopped parsley and pepper. Arrange the chops around the edge of the platter and heap the cubes in the center.

Orange Pudding.—Scald a pint of milk in a double boiler, add a table-spoonful of cornstarch which has been mixed with a little cold milk, then add the yolks of two eggs and a cupful of sugar. Cook until smooth then remove from the heat. Peel and slice thin two oranges, sprinkle with sugar, then pour over them the chilled custard. A meringue may be added and browned in the oven. Chill and serve cold.

Distant Courtesies.

"As an artist I suppose you assume to be indifferent to money?"

"No, I'm not indifferent. But I'm not sufficiently acquainted to attempt familiarity."

A Difficult Request.

The Customer—Do you sell invisible hair nets?

The Assistant—Yes, madam.

The Customer—Will you let me see one, please?—London Sketch.

Parasols for Fowls.

The burning question of the day in the minds of all thoughtful poultry keepers, says C. N. Perkins in the Poultry Review (U. S. A.), is how to provide shade for the fowls during the hot weather.—Farm Life.

There are various things to do, suggests London Punch. A parasol for every fowl is sometimes tried. Another way is to teach them "In the Shadows."

Volatile Fertilizer.

The dust collected from numerous vacuum cleaners has proved to be a valuable fertilizer, and its sale has become a regular business in India.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR MISSING MINISTER

Eldest Son of Rev. L. S. Fuller Arrives in Lexington With No News of His Father's Whereabouts.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 13.—Mr. S. L. Fuller, of Hartford, Conn., eldest son of the missing minister, Rev. L. S. Fuller, arrived in Lexington Monday morning and is at the home of his mother, 532 Rose street, preparing to take up a new line of search for his father.

Mr. Fuller spent practically all of last week at the scene of Rev. Fuller's disappearance in Southeastern Ohio, and at Charleston, W. Va., making investigations in all the towns where his father was reported to have been seen after his disappearance from Evergreen, Ohio.

No definite information having been obtained there, either by him or others who were helping in the search, Mr. Fuller decided to come to Lexington.

Tuesday he will have cuts made from photographs of his father, and have circulars printed, giving his dis-cription and the time and place of his disappearance, which he will send broadcast over all the country where his father might have gone.

Mr. Fuller said he had reached the conclusion that his father was attacked with some form of illness which caused his mind to become impaired, and that he had wandered around until taken to a hospital. He expressed his belief that the missing man had met with no foul play, and would be found within the next week or two at most.

Mr. Fuller said he had searched for his father night and day last week, and would continue looking for him, without returning to his home in the East, until some definite information was obtained.

CAUSE OF DEATH OF MRS. WOOD

Is Not Determined.—Coroner Directs That Stomach of Supposed Gas Victim be Analyzed.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 13.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of Mrs. Madie Lee Wood, wife of L. E. Wood, who was found dead Sunday morning from supposed asphyxiation, Monday ordered, after the testimony of two physicians had indicated that she had been poisoned in some way, that the stomach be removed and its contents analyzed at the State University. The family did not want this done and Coroner Dr. J. D. Kiser, said, "is office had no power to compel obedience to the order."

Here's Some Important News For Men Who Are Growing Bald.

People who have taken our word for it that PARISIAN SAGE is the real hair grower, beautifier and dandruff cure have never been disappointed. Here's the word of a person who took our word:

"I have been using PARISIAN SAGE about a year. When I began to use it I had only light 'fuzz' on my head. Now I have a good thick growth, and it is growing thicker and longer right along. Many people don't believe it can be done, but I know from my own experience with PARISIAN SAGE that it can; I recommend it in the fullest confidence." —Gaines Brown, 708 North Filmore street, Maryville, Mo.
